

Common Ground Matrix

Induction Coordinators Fall Meeting 2013

Discover Where People Have Shared Interests

- Have everyone write one sticky note for each category (the number of feet in your house includes human and pet feet).
- As a table group post the post-it notes under each category.
- Stand at chart and go through each column searching for common ground.
- If you find two or three in common, explore whether others in the group might have similar answers.
- Share with the whole group and discuss how this might be used with mentor groups and workshops for new teachers.